

Here's why we joined the WAVES!

Read why women like yourself are enlisting by the thousands to serve their country in important Navy jobs

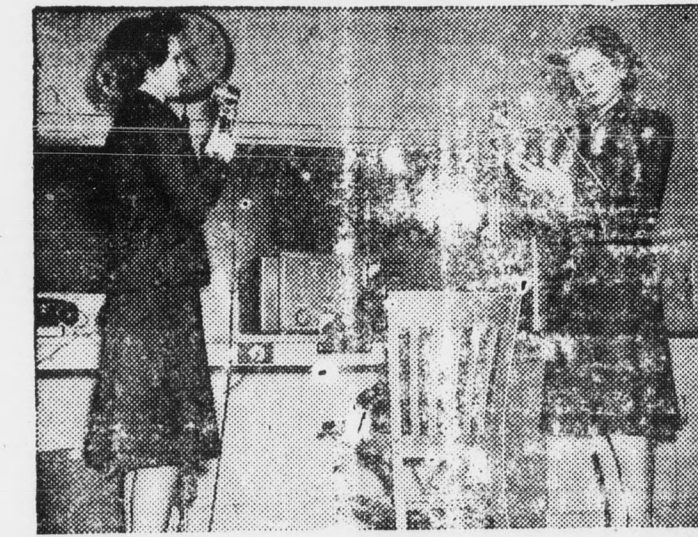

"YOU CAN'T EAT THE TRAINING you get in the WAVES! One to four months in college surroundings. Comfortable rooms in a canteen. Good food—all paid for by the Navy! And it's finest training in the world. Typing, radio, communications, mechanics—Navy instructors make you an expert in any of a dozen different jobs."

"ANOTHER FRIEND OF MINE used to be a buyer for a department store in town. Now she's Storekeeper King of the WAVES—and with her experience she has found her present job made to order. Storekeeping may not sound exciting, but Helen says it is in the Navy. And she expects a promotion soon!"

"FOR INSTANCE, MY ROOMMATE at training school uses a fascinating post in Naval Communication. One of her duties is to check the position of our ships by means of charts. As she wrote me recently, "I not only have the satisfaction of doing my part to help win the war. In my job with the WAVES, I can see how we're winning it."

"IT'S A REAL THRILL, he says, "to hold a job like mine. On duty in the WAVES, I help to direct the take-off and landing of every kind of war plane. I'm right in the thick of everything that's exciting in America at war. And that's only one of the jobs a girl can fill in the WAVES."

TODAY, the Navy is offering patriotic young women the greatest opportunity they have ever had to serve their country. Today, the Navy needs their services as never before...to release trained Navy men for sea duty by taking over jobs at shore bases. If you are a young woman between 20 and 36, with as much as two years of high school or business school, you are eligible for enlistment. The pay is excellent. The work is thrilling. The need is URGENT. The whole exciting story of service in the WAVES is told in a free, 30-page, illustrated book, "How to Serve Your Country in the WAVES," which you can secure at any Navy Recruiting Station. If it is not convenient for you to visit a Navy Recruiting Station, simply clip and mail the coupon at right below, and a copy of the book will be mailed to you immediately.

Conservation On The Farm

One of a series of articles about what Appomattox farmers are doing.

Senator C. T. Moses and his father own several farms in Appomattox County, and are rapidly improving them.

Working up a farm plan on one farm in cooperation with the Robert E. Lee Soil Conservation District and is working on plans for two others.

Realizing that good pastures are the cheapest means of furnishing food for cattle, Senator Moses has improved the farm which is located on Highway 40 about two miles west of Appomattox, by liming, fertilizing, plowing in gullies and gullies, and milking. All of the 142 acres of open land on this farm is either in pasture or hay. Corn and small grain are raised on the other farms.

On the nearby Twyman place, Senator Moses is preparing 86 acres for pasture. He is taking the sheep and goats on both sides of the branch and systematically improving it.

Soil samples have been taken and sent off for analysis. By doing this, he will know how much lime and what kind of fertilizer to use and will get better and quicker results.

Forsee Roosevelt veto if Congress tries to balk food subsidy program.

Mrs. Ferguson attended Lynchburg College. Dr. Alsop is a graduate of Johns Hopkins and is now interning at Ford Hospital, Detroit.

Immediately after the ceremony the couple left on their way to Detroit, where they will make their home.

It's Men's Turn to Be 'Saved' Now

A sharp increase in the number of men who will be rescued from "drownings" on the nation's highways is predicted as girls take over the duties of lifeguards this summer. The browned admonition who protected the bathers in former years have gone off to war. This sextette of husky lifelines are listening to instructions of their trainer at Long Beach, Calif.

Plant your fall garden now. You can do a great deal in helping to win this war by producing more food. Beans, beets, cabbage, kale, tendergreen, carrots, corn, endive, squash and tomato plants should be planted now. Lettuce, radishes, spinach and turnip salad should be planted in August. ESTABLISHED 1892

Mr. and Mrs. Eagle have another son, Walter Eagle, now in Africa.

Reterendum on Tobacco Quota

Farmers will vote on flue-cured tobacco marketing quotas for the 1944 crop, or for the 3-year period 1944-46, in a referendum to be held Saturday, July 24, 1943, according to a War Food Administration announcement received by W. T. Nash, chairman of the Appomattox County AAA committee.

This date is in accordance with recommendations of flue-cured tobacco farmers, warehousemen, business men, farm organizations, leaders and others from flue-cured areas.

The announcement was made following the signing by the President on July 7 of a joint resolution providing for the proclamation of quotas for the 1944-45 marketing year. The national marketing quota and state and farm acreage allotments will be the same as for 1943 with similar provisions for adjustment.

Tobacco producers will vote by secret ballot and polling places will be designated in local communities by AAA county committees. Local farmers will be in charge of community polling places. Any farmer is eligible to vote who owns, tenants, or sharecropper is entitled to a share of the proceeds of the 1943 flue-cured tobacco crop. Before quotas become effective, they must be approved by a two-thirds majority of all eligible farmers voting.

Big league all-star ball game was played Tuesday night.
